

STATE AND LOCAL TAX

Keep your state, local and federal taxes in check so you don't overpay.

It is not uncommon for businesses to overpay or underpay tax bills because the volume of taxes imposed at the state and local level can be overwhelming. And when the tax bills involved multiple states, the likelihood of error is even greater. Compound that with states and local governments on tight budgets more aggressively enforcing meticulous state and local tax strategies, and businesses can find themselves in need of state and local tax advice.

Staying on top of the complexities of these taxes requires both constant attention and significant resources. At Anders, our State and Local Tax (SALT) team provides a wide range of multistate tax services to assist companies through the state and local tax maze.
